Habitat for Humanity® of Metro Louisville

We build strength, stability, and self-reliance through shelter.

What is a Donor Advised Fund

A donor-advised fund, or DAF, is a charitable giving program that allows you to combine the most favorable tax benefits with the flexibility to support your favorite causes. Donor-advised funds can easily be set up through a community foundation or your financial institution.

Why a DAF could be right for you:

- DAFs allows you to donate cash, stock and other assets as charitable gifts over several years.
- DAFs provide a flexible and easy method of giving if you support multiple charities.
- DAFs can be used to complement or replace a private foundation.

As with all gift planning, you should consult your financial adviser and lawyer to help you get started by recommending a grant to Habitat for Humanity of Metro Louisville. Your donor-advised fund gift to Louisville Habitat will help families across Jefferson County build a better life starting with decent, affordable housing.

How To Give with a Donor-Advised Fund

You can recommend your donor-advised fund to make a gift on your behalf — even during a multi-year time frame — provided the commitment comes from the fund itself.
You can also establish a memorial fund in honor of someone through a donor-advised fund. It could be a new fund altogether or granting in memoriam out of an existing fund.

Contact your gift advisor to start the giving process. The information you'll need is:
